Poverty-stricken little "kids", who find an old envelope somewhere with a cancelled stamp and an age-worn address, and mail in it to "Santy Claus" all of their hopes and prayers will have a real Christmas this year, if college students turn out in a body to honor the football team.

Arrangements have been made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce with E. J. Sullivan, manager of the Fox California theater, for a "College Night" on Friday night at 9 o'clock, in conjunction with "Hot Saturday", featuring Nancy Carroll.

Prior to the show student body members will assemble for a dance in the Quad from 7:30 to 8:30 with Scott Held's orchestra.

The college band will play several numbers in the theater. Short talks will be made by Dud DeGroot and Jack Wool. President Arthur Caldwell off the Junior Chamber, will make the address of welcome, to which Leon Warmke will respond.

Other Junior Chamber members on the committee are C. W. Watts, Harvey Miller, Charles Pond, and Russel Pettit.

The plan is to use money from the performance to buy presents for children of the worthy needy of the city. These presents will be delivered on Christmas day.

Arrangements are being made to grant a special discount to college students with cards.

Dr. Holliday Speaking to Willow Glen P. T. A.

"What kind of an education?" will be the subject of Dr. Carl Holliday's address Wednesday afternoon to the Parent-Teachers Association of Willow Glen Public School.

In his own apt way of putting it, "Education should be more from the neck down, less from the neck up." Dr. Holliday asserts that vocational education has no longer an important place in school systems; people should be taught recreational activities. Every man should have a hobby, should have acquired skill in an activity he enjoys.

Dr. Holliday will deliver the address again Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Parent Teachers Association of Lowell School. Speaking this evening, Wednesday

CIVIC RECOGNITION TO BE GIVEN TO TEAM AT "CALIFORNIA"

Complete civic recognition is to be accorded the F. W. C. championship football team of San Jose State at the Fox California Theatre on Friday night, bringing to a final slashing climax a season of Spartan triumphs.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, co-operating with a State College committee, is sponsoring an event unheard of in college history—a gala College Night, in which the San Jose city fathers will take part. Al Meyers, chairman of the City Council, will congratulate the football team.

A dance, with Scott Held's orchestra, will be held in the Quad from 7:30 to 8:45, beginning the events of the evening. At 8:45 the band will lead the procession of students to the theater, where Howard Burns will lead yells for the champions and Coach DeGroot.

A program of community-campus co-operation, inaugurated last March, is brought to its culmination by this event. On the college committee are Leon Warmke, Howard Burns and Hale Vagts, while Dick Sanders has been appointed as chairman of the quad dance and James Fitzgerald is heading college publicity.

The Joel Carter quartet will provide entertainment on the theatre stage, while Dud DeGroot, who may replace Warner as Stanford coach, and Arthur Caldwell of the Jr. C. of C., will speak.

A. W. S. Searching for Man Found in Play

Interest in the A. W. S. man hunt reached fever pitch today, when the Pinkerton detective announced that disclosure of Mr. X's identity was in sight. "I'm getting hot, the A. W. S. is getting hot, and Mr. X is getting hot. It won't be long now."

The sleuth cautiously informed this reporter that the true identity of the co-eds mysterious hero would be a great surprise. He hinted, "I look for a decided drop in the stock markets when the news is revealed. My quarry is a very important man."

The Times is connected with the detective headquarters under the Training building steps by a private wire. "We will give out the latest developments of the man hunt."

DeGroot May Take Job If Offered to Him by Stanford

GUESSING CONTEST GOES
ON FOR STANFORD
VACANCY

When questioned as to the rumors which have connected his name with the Stanford coaching job, Coach Dud DeGroot said:

"I went up to see 'Pop' yesterday to tell him that I was sorry he was leaving. He told me that he was recommending me for the job."

When asked, "If the position is offered you, will you accept it?" he replied:

"I don't know. A lot depends on the set-up!"

With the game of guessing as to the identity of "Pop" Warner's successor at Stanford getting into full swing, the name of Dud DeGroot became further linked with the situation when Warner himself, suggested the San Jose mentor for the position of head coach.

"It is really none of my business," he said, "but my suggestion, and it would be a suggestion only, is that if they want an alumni coaching system, to put either 'Tiny' Thornhills or Dudley DeGroot, a former Stanford man, later coaching at Menlo J. C., and

S. J. State Summer School Virtually Assured for 1933

LOCAL SUMMER SESSION EARN $2000 PROFIT FOR STATE

San Jose State will retain its summer school, according to Dr. MacQuarrie, who recently returned from the Fresno meeting of presidents and deans of State Teacher Training Colleges. Although several of the colleges are in danger of losing the summer sessions, San Jose is not among that number.

The local school last summer drew 1000 students, who paid in a total of $20,000 in registration fees. Because only $18,000 is required for operating expenses, the session netted the state $2,000 profit. This fact alone shows the soundness of again offering the summer courses.

It is possible, that through the surplus created by the larger schools, these sessions, with a limited registration, will be able to operate.

For the next biennium, despite absorbing a 20% increase in attendance, San Jose State is asking for approximately $69,000 less awarded for the previous two years. Dr. MacQuarrie strongly advocates the restricting of high-way building as a means of economizing rather than by further curtailing school funds and unintentionally crippling the educational facilities of the state.

When asked for a list of the new buildings desired, in case the state voted the necessary bonds, Dr. MacQuarrie named the following in the order of their importance: library, music, union, and remodeling and rebuilding the auditorium. He also added that in all probabilities the bonds would not be voted at this time.

Three members of the student body were nominated for the responsible office of Chairman of Student Affairs, a position which not only absolutely demands willingness, but ingenuity and ability. Dick Sanders, present holder of the office was nominated for re-election, and Dario Simoni, star football player and election judge, and Perry Stratton, a senior who has been president of the Iota Sigma Phi, industrial arts organization, took charge of several dances, one of which, the Babot dance, was acclaimed as the most original and most interesting dance ever given on the campus.

With nominations concluded, the meeting was turned over to the chairmanship of Frank Covelto, who remarked on the extraordinary attendance of about

Craig's Cardinals Are To Furnish Music for Frosh Ball

December 10, the night; the Moorish Court and Pompeian Room, the place; the renowned Craig's Cardinals as the first orchestra, and the Cox Brothers' orchestra as the second providers of dance music; all this and more for the annual Freshman Ball to be given this coming Saturday night.

The Class of '36, choosing the popular and beautiful Moorish Court and Pompeian Room at O'Brien's as the scene of what will be the final and most outstanding special event of the quarter, are endeavoring, through the channels of competent aid from committees under the general chairmanship of Bill Townner, to make the ball one which will be remembered.

The ball is to be semi-formal, meaning that the women will wear formals, although not extremely formal, and the men will wear dark suits. There has been much argument pro and con over this point, but Miss Dimmick, dean of women, using Emily Post as her authority, states that this style of dress is the proper and accepted one.

Bids for the ball have been on sale for some time now, at $1.50 each, and may still be procured from members of the bid committee, which includes Jim Sinclair, Giner Thomas, Elwood Austin, Muriel Hood, Charles Hoehn, Hilda Bussefeld, Bill Townner, and Louise Winans.

Florence Henderson Speaks To Primary Classes

Miss Florence Henderson, faculty member from the Speech Arts department, gave the students in Primary Curriculum and Kindergarten Activities, a most helpful talk on the importance of the small child acquiring right speech habits. Common errors were listed and ways in which they could be eliminated. The point was made that the teacher of the little child must be a model in her speech as she would be imitated.

Miss Henderson demonstrated how poetry could be read in sing-song, meaningless manner or with meaning and rhythm. Her choice of poetry was most appropriate to kindergarten and primary grades.

The program, accordingly, was composed of a number and an encore by the Male Quartette, which proved popular at both the Junior Follies and the Men's Mixer. Ray Janns, also known for his entertainment at the Men's Mixer, played the banjo.

President Harry Krytzer took charge of the meeting which was held to elect officers for the coming quarter.

The elections were as follows: President, Spence Amick; vice president, Ada Mae Rhoades; secretary, Jane Becker; treasurer, Bill Keeley. Two candidates were nominated for A. W. S. representative. They were Lois Larry and Ruth Sherburne. Lois Larry was elected.

Spence Amick, new president of the Senior class, who succeeds Harry Krytzer, talked to the students about what a success the new term would be.

Miss Innes, appointment secretary, announced that all December graduates are to complete records in the appointment office as soon as possible. If they have not had their interviews, to do so at once, also to take out alumni.

Junior-Senior day is to be Thursday, December 8, at 11:00 to 12:30, in the Women's Gym. Further announcements concerning this will be in the Times.

The "Scrap Iron Group" furnished the entertainment. Howard Gillespie played a banjo selection. Ed Kelley, vocalist, sang the "Song of a Vagabond," and was accompanied by Emil Swartz. Ray Jans sang "Negro Songs," and "Home on the Range," which was very much liked.

Leonard Rising Will Head Iota Delta Phi

BACON, HAM, AND OTHER FOOD ITEMS ARE REQUESTED

"Who gives himself with his arms feeds three. Himself, his hungering neighbor and me."

And this Christmas there will be so many hungering neighbors—so many bare cupboards—so many Tiny Tims and lean B. Cratchitts dining on lean Christmas dinners. Ah, but there's a Christmas spirit.

In Room 19 of the Home-Making building, Delta Nu Theta is holding open house to charity, December fifth to tenth. There, baskets will be filled by charitable collegians for the needy families of San Jose.

Delta Nu Theta asks for the following items: bacon, ham, flour, sugar, nuts, lentils, beans, dried peas, potatoes, dried fruits, oranges, macaroni, malted milk, canned milk, cereals, or any canned goods. Many would also be appreciated with fresh foods.

The donations received will be distributed before Christmas to deserving homes, where they will revive fallen hopes and gladden heavy hearts. How much greater a gift of dry beans would be to a starving man, than an expensive present to one who has plenty.

The reward to the donors of these simple alms will be the joy of Tim's joyous Christmas shout, "God bless us all!"

Jean De Voss Goes To Stanford for S. J. State College

FORTY STUDENTS ATTEND MEETING FROM OTHER COLLEGES

Representing the International Relations Club at San Jose, Jean De Voss attended the Conference of International Relations clubs of Northern California and Nevada held at Stanford November 21 and 22.

The conference opened with speeches of welcome by Dr. Swain and Miss Amy Hemmingsway Jones the latter head of the Carnegie Foundation for the Preservation of Peace.

About forty students attended from various colleges and universities in this State and Nevada.

The program was taken up mainly with round-table discussions held informally, subjects for discussions being: The Sino-Japanese Situation, International Co-operation Through Conferences, Emphasizing the Disarmament Conference and the Coming Economic Conference; the Versailles Treaty in Retrospect: Its Revision or Abrogation.

Many of the delegates had continental backgrounds, having studied abroad, thus injecting into the discussions a real and vivid knowledge of existing situations and providing a contrast of opinions. Of special interest was the stand taken by a Polish and a German student on the Polish Corridor question.

One of the highlights of the program was the address by Chester Russell on the subject of "Latest Aspects of the War Debt Situation."

Publication of Writings by College Students Is Encouraged

"A most potent influence in advancing creative writing through the actual appearance of the student work in print. All the college publications, the daily paper, the literary magazines, and the collegiate yearbook, offer valuable outlets," writes Miss Alice C. Cooper, member of the English Department, in an article in the November issue of "Education."

Her subject being "Creative Writing in the Junior College," Miss Cooper's article is one of those featured by the current issue, which is devoted to Creative Writing in general.

A desire to write effectively, coupled with an understanding of the value of doing so, Miss Cooper considers essential. To effect these interests in students, she suggests the reading of good literature, or, as she states it, "creative reading," as being the most important. Other aids include precise writing, and the study of paragraph organization.

Miss Cooper has long experimented in the field of teaching composition and is a recognized authority on the subject. Her article has received much praise in educational circles.

California Univ. Professor Carries on Survey of Student Attitude

Curious to learn the secret attitude of students toward their instructors, Dr. Frank W. Hart, Professor of Education at the University of California, started an experiment in high schools of Sonoma county which reached proportions of a nation-wide survey and revealed the secrets of the minds of ten thousand budding high school graduates.

The pupils responded with alacrity, and without identifying their teachers, catalogued sins and virtues.

Thoughts of these students, who were asked for frank and anonymous criticism of the best and least liked pedagogues, were revealed by Dr. Hart. He made it the basis of a lecture at the county teacher's institute. He said, "No one, after reading the answers, could doubt the intelligence, sincerity and character of our coming generation."

The results, to the distress of about half of the teachers graded, because they were "flunked" by their students and to the joy of the others who received figurative orchids for their capabilities, were glowing paragraphs devoted to descriptions of educators regarded as leaders of youth and the best in their field, and merciless criticisms of teachers felt to be insincere, lazy and incapable.

Important among the criticisms were the following principles: To be helpful with lessons, sincere, impartial and broadminded is the first rule to success. Voice and culture were found to be virtually negligible factors. Eighty per cent of the students regarded the teacher most popular to them personally as the best educators. Twenty per cent described the ideal educator as possessing a mixture of qualities, some displeasing, some pleasing to the earnest student.

Sins of the less popular instructors were listed by the students as negligence, over-bearing attitude, partiality, ignorance of the subject taught, lack of understanding and "too cross" a disposition.

Nearly all admired stern discipline when it was tempered with understanding of a student's problems and ability was unquestioned.

College Y.W.C.A. Has Fall Initiation at Schofield Thursday

Y. W. CABINET IS PRESENT AT IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Most beautiful Christmas berries, candle light, soft music, and a sparkling fire in the homey fireplace of Schofield Hall, the local Y. W. C. A. held their impressive fall initiation Thursday night, December 1.

Preceding the initiation, the new members were greeted in the lobby by the old members, and then the new girls were led up to the ceremony.

The Y cabinet, consisting of Ruth Smith, Laura Henery, Florence Jewell, Isabel Koeler, Kate Watanabe, Rae Roybins, Ada Gardner, Thelma McKnight, Ruth Townsend, Marion Oldham, Marion Matravers, Marion Frueling, Catherine Fisher, and Grace Murray, and Miss Anne Aalfs, were lovely in pastel formals against the firelight. Miss Muriel Irwin, president, in a beautiful white formal with a colorful corsage, read the initiation ceremony while soft violin music was heard in the background. Miss Ruth Smith sang a soprano solo, concluding the ritual.

Following the initiation, a reception was held and light refreshments, consisting of old-fashioned Christmas ale and cookies, were served.

Over 75 girls were initiated. Those in charge of the decorations were Florence Rhoden and Beatrice De Friest. Refreshments, Marion Mott and Thelma McKnight; program, Margaret Schnoble and Ruth Raymond.

W. A. A. Hold Banquet at Hotel Sainte Claire

The Cafe Esplendido at the Hotel Sainte Claire was the scene of feminine festivity Monday evening, as nearly one hundred and fifty women of San Jose State attended the W. A. A. Christmas banquet.

June Becker presided at the table of the W. A. A. executive board.

A shining Christmas tree was surrounded by numerous little gifts for the children at the Home of Benevolence. These presents were distributed among the guests to be played with, after the banquet.

Evelyn Hartman's orchestra, in gay costume, entertained with music for dancing between courses and following the dinner. The Bel Canto Quartette sang "Silent Night," "The First Noel," and "Adeste Fideles."

The Christmas banquet is a most popular affair, this one entertaining many more guests than any one preceding. Helen Templeton, who with her committee made this affair a success, deserves much credit.

San Jose Gridders Pick All-Opponent Eleven for Times

STIVE MURDOCK, GIL BISHOP COMPILE VOTES FOR COLLEGE PAPER

With "All-this" and "All-that" teams being picked near and far throughout the country, your hard-working scribes have endeavored to get the opinion of the Spartan grid warriors on the subject of an "All-Opponent" eleven, composed of members of teams played by the Spartan eleven during this victorious season. A decided variance of opinion was found in most instances, with a great many men being picked for each position. We wish to thank the following men for their selections and time: Ray Arjo, Jerry Whitaker, Jack Wool, Dee Shehtanian, Keith Carmichael, Bart Collins, Bill Kazarian, Jack Wilson, George Embury, Rogers Moore, Charley Baracchi, Bill Burt, Freddy Bennett, Carl Sandholdt, Wes Klemm, Jim Francis, Joe Dieu, Mel Hornbeck, Horace Laughlin, Gus Peterson, Ed Riley, Jim Griffith Howard Wulffing, Dario Simoni, Delos Wolfe, "Moose" Buehler, and Harry Hardiman.

At the end positions, Harvey, the colored lad of Sacramento Junior College, was the outstanding selection, gaining the vote of twenty-three Spartans. Austin of Nevada, got fourteen ballots, taking the other end position rather easily. Bankofier of Nevada, Schleibbaum of Fresno, and Truckell of Pacific, were the next three ranking wing men.

The tackle job found Thies of Nevada, easily the pick of the opposition, the Reno boy getting 24 votes. The other tackle resulted in a scramble between Kaufmann of Fresno, his running mate, Lewis, Fiack of the Aggies, and Stocking of Pacific, with Kaufmann winning by a single vote.

The two guards getting the most recognition from the men of San Jose were Beemer of Nevada with 19 and Feichtmier of Fresno, with 12. Jellison of Chico, and Oda of the Aggies, were also up in the running.

The pivot position of the line was a walkaway for Cashill of Nevada, who got 24 ballots. Corson of Pacific and Baker of Weber, were also mentioned.

Wolfe of the Aggies, got the quarter-backing job, getting 11 votes for that position and two for half-back. Read of Weber, and Hill of Nevada, also gained a number of Spartan selections.

Spartan Spasms

By Murdock and Bishop

We see that Don Kerchan, one of Sparta's greatest basketball players, who is now attending Fresno State, is going to assist Stan Borleske in coaching the freshman basketball team at the valley institution.

Mr. Spurgeon ("Sparky") Avakian, sports editor of the Fresno State "Collegian", gets off this left-handed compliment in regards to San Jose. "We congratulate the Prunepickers on their very excellent showing. But who knows where the Spartans will stand in the Conference a year from now."

They are said to have perfected a soft, southern boo at Tulane, which is claimed to be superior to the common Bronx variety.

God's gift to the medical profession. Reggie McNamara, a gentleman who participates in that gentle sport of six-day bicycle riding, has had 11 broken collar bones, three cracked ribs, a fractured skull, a broken jaw, and a broken leg.

San Jose State appeared on the official schedule for the University of Oregon's basketball barnstorming trip to California published in the "Daily Emerald" last Saturday. The trip is planned for the Christmas holidays and the Spartans are listed to engage the Webfeet on December 26.

Just to keep in fashion Chico

At the half positions, Hamilton of Pacific, got 13 votes, Hill of Nevada got five plus six at quarter, and Wilson got 11 votes, making three half-backs for two positions.

The full-back for the team was selected as Carroll of Nevada, who edged out ahead of Strobbridge of Pacific, and Horner of Fresno.

The complete team is as follows:

Ends—Harvey (Sac.), Austin (Nev.)

Tackles—Thies (Nev.), Kaufmann (Fresno).

Guards—Beemer (Nev.), Feichtmier (Fresno).

Center—Cashill (Nev.)

Quarter—Wolfe (Aggies).

Halves—Hamilton (Pac.), Hill (Nev.), Wilson (Pac.)

Full—Carroll (Nev.)

Nevada had six men on the team; Pacific two; Fresno two; with the Aggies and Sacramento J. C. each having one.

Web Benton, athletic manager, is at present communicating with the following schools concerning prospective meets.

Stanford Frosh, California Frosh, California Varsity, Menlo J. C., San Mateo J. C., San Francisco Teachers, Athens Athletic Club of Oakland, Amblers Athletic Club of Stockton, Sacramento J. C., and Modesto J. C.

Coach Walker plans to begin training sessions at once, and hopes to schedule the first meet February 1. The competitive season will probably include about ten meets and continue until the middle of May.

The case of Mr. Volpa, a member of the Los Gatos High School 130-pound basketball team, who pulled a "Riegles" the other night when he tanked a nice shot from near the center of the court into his own basket, thereby ringing up two points for the opposition—Santa Cruz High School in this case.

Bob Luther, editor of the Chico State "Wildcat," honored three San Jose men with positions on his second team besides the three who were on the first team. Those on the second team were Francis, Whitaker and Shehtanian.

now with San Jose State, as head coach, with Ernie Nevers as his assistant.

This announcement, made yesterday, bears out a previous assumption whereby DeGroot's name was suggested in the capacity of an assistant coach. However, the dopesters are now placing his name right up with the other candidates for the job among whom are "Clipper" Smith, Ernie Nevers, "Tim" Thornhill, Dick Hanley, Andy Kerr, Jack Sutherland, Fred Swan, Frank Wilton, and "Hab" Bradshaw.

DeGroot's sensational success in bringing the Spartans into tie for the Conference championship, has been largely responsible for the favorable ranking he is being given by those supposed in the "know". However, it is still early in the game, and more or less will be many before the matter is finally settled.

Men's Mixer Brings Great Crowd to Enjoy Novel Program

The Men's Mixer was about the best thing that's happened around here in a goodly sum of moon. The fake wrestling bout between Habery and Phipers was the duck's whiskers. Leave it to the Phy Ed Majors to put something over. However, we suggest the next time the coffee and doughnuts be served from an armored car in the middle of the San Carlos Street turf. It would save wear and tear on the gym doors.

Fresno State Promotes Frosh Coach to Varsity

Leo Harris, former Stanford star and successful freshman coach, has been named to succeed Stan Borleske as head coach at Fresno State College for the 1933 season, adding another name to the rapidly growing list of new coaches. With San Jose and Nevada blooming out with new mentors in '32, and Fresno and Pacific sporting new leaders in '33, Art Acker of Chico becomes the oldest coach in point of service in the Conference, to be followed by "Crip" Toomey of the Aggies.

We feel very chagrined indeed for omitting from the All-Conference selections the names of Skinny Mathieson and Jack Mengel who cinched the positions of water-boy and time-keeper, respectively, as a result of the stellar performance all season. Mengel failed to show up for the Weber struggle, but as it was a non-conference game we did not count this against him. Mathieson demonstrated his versatility by qualifying as a double threat, being equally proficient with either the wagon or bucket.
